RESULTS AT HARLEM.

A leaden sky, from which ever and anon the heavenly park keeper turned loose his sprinkler to the great inconvenience of the West Side angels living in second flats, as thereby the water supply was shut off, welcomed the Harlem crowd yesterday. The card of seven races proved attractive and everything worked smoothly for the first two races, Starter Dwyer getting the horses away quickly. The drops of rain began to fall about the time of the start of the third race and when Traverser and his brethren went to the post, the soil of the track was somewhat slippery. The features of the day was the ride of Thorpe on Morte Fouse and that of J. Reiff on Babieca.

Sauterne, owned by Wood Hoffman, proved to be a "good thing." The parties who were to put the money on at the track did not fancy the price, and this advanced so that the pool rooms were undoubtedly plucked. The horse, whose class was high as a two- and three-year-old, was never in trouble and won with a little shaking-up at the finish. Bryan was fourth up the back stretch and Millie M. still further away, but these horses had a tight race for the place, Millie M. finishing second. Dr. Sharp came very fast at the finish. Cosmos was well backed.

Old Libertine took a notion to run, and like many another aged campaigner may fancy a small boy, whose light hands are unable to yank a horse about. He opened an equal favorite at 6 to 5 with Pat Dunne's Official, but advanced to 8 to 5, the other dropping to even money. At the far turn Libertine raced away from his field and won as he pleased, The Tory beating Cutter in a drive for the place. Official, never worse than fourth, was never better than third. Chugnut raced in the lead for three-eighths and Brother Fred was well up for three-quarters.

Babieca failing to come to the scratch delayed still further a start which Mr. Dwyer found hard to effect because of the bad actions of several horses, notably, First Call, who ran his race at the post; J. Reiff bounded off Babieca like a ball, but quickly remounted, and McNickle was on the ground for an instant. Sybaris and Nivoce were the leaders to the straight, where Sidonian came from the bunch to the third position. A general closing at the last eighth and the rush at the finish produced as the winner Babieca. Diggs, who had been well up in front all the way, getting the place, and Borden the third money.

The Kentuckian, with five pounds the better of the weights as against the day when Guess Me beat him at four and one-half furlongs, was practically "held out" by the bookmakers, they driving the play onto Guess Me and Excursion. Another long delay at the post. Excursion and Guess Me raced alongside to the straight, soon after entering which The Kentuckian (always third) went to the front and walked home. Excursion quit at the last sixteenth, but beat the fourth horse away off.

Traverser and St. Alfonses D. raced in front like a double team from start to finish. At the end of the betting ring the 1 to 4 players almost had a fit, as the favorite was a neck behind. Traverser then gained, and at the last 100 yards was a neck ahead, but Turner had to go to the whip to win. Ferroll was a bad third.

A beautiful start in the sixth race, and passing the stand the horses were bunched, Elusive last. Braw Lad ran off in front and at the middle of the back stretch the entire lot were strung out. Boanerges three open lengths behind the leader, Cherry Leaf third by two lengths, Morte Fouse fourth several lengths away. The last named horse now began a phenomenal burst of speed which finally landed him a comparatively easy winner, Cherry Leaf had picked up Boanerges at the last quarter and as the favorite fell away beaten Tom Berry's horse went after Braw Lad, which catching at the last sixteenth, he looked to have safe. Just then Morte Fouse sailed by and little Reiff, evidently playing possum now went to work with his whip and lambasted his mount to such perfection that Braw Lad beat Cherry Leaf for the place, despite the frantic effort of "Skeets" Martin. Bishop Reed and Elusive were beaten off. A big wad of currency was placed on the latter.

Our Gertie went out as if to distance all others in the seventh race, but Madrilene got her half way home from the head of the home stretch. Now "Skeets" Martin came on with Tartarian and beat them both. Hindoonet was heavily backed at post time, but only ran second three-eighths before closing up. Lady Callahan ran well in front of the bunch to the last quarter. Melter finished absolutely last. As the leaders swung around the bend for home a big white bull dog ran out and crossed the track ahead of the flying squadron, fortunately doing no damage.

Starter Dwyer got the field away at the first attempt, in both the first and second races.

Seventeen books "cut in." A new comer was a well known trotting horse bookmaker.

"Bob" Lynn, a popular southern sporting man, was a visitor.

THE LITTLE SAINT CASE.

Richard Croker's purchase of the colt Little Saint at the conclusion of a selling race at Sandown Park last month was considered to be one of the sensations of the English racing season. The incident is thus described in the Sportsman:

"Mr. Croker, remembering, I dare say, the manner in which he and Mr. Dwyer used to be run up for their selling race winners in their first campaign here, three years ago, decided to turn the tables on the Britisher. Anyhow he kept remorselessly bidding on, and Mr. Beaumont, standing on the right of the auctioneer and charged with the responsible duty of buying in, began to turn almost as white as his hat as one hundred after another was steadily rolled up. At first people had been taking little notice of what was going on, but when 1,000 guineas was reached excitement began to simmer, and as the strange duel continued quite a crowd gathered at the foot of the rostrum, and Little Saint was left to walk about wherever his attendant could find an open space.

"No one took any notice of him; all attention was focused on the rival bidders. They advanced only at tens at a time, and this only made the dogged perseverance of each more noticeable. When men jump 50 or 100 at a bid you know the contest will not be a long one, but here it bade fair to be interminable. Some one near me remarked that Mr. Croker meant having the colt even if he had to give 3,000 guineas for him. I daresay this was so. Anyhow, he went grimly on to 1,600 guineas, and then Mr. Beaumont gave up in despair. Mr. Croker was 'boss' of that show. He got the colt, and those standing around gave him a cheer for what had been a nice round of sport."

"Another writer says: 'What cruel luck, to be sure, to have tumbled up against the American, who hardly ever bids for a plater, but when he does is an awkward customer to tackle, for he can stay with the best of them. He seemed highly amused over this deal. The other side looked mighty serious. Overtures were, I understand, made after the sale to get Little Saint back, but Mr. Croker naturally enough would not entertain the idea. Sixteen hundred guineas is a bit of a record for a plater entered to be sold for 'fifty,' but likely enough it is that Mr. Croker has, when all is said and done, not got hold of the worst end of the bargain.'"

Commenting on this transaction, W. H. Rowe says in Morning Telegraph:

"Little Saint is by Friar's Balsam, out of Little Emily. Friar's Balsam has had some very nice representatives running in America, the most conspicuous having been The Friar, Voter and Casseopia. Little Emily is by Wisdom, out of Lady Emily, she by Distin, out of Sappho, and is the property of Mr. E. H. Watt. Little Saint was himself sold as a yearling for 600 guineas at Doncaster last September, his purchaser being 'Mr. Cresswell,' in whose colors he scored the victory which led to his being secured by Mr. Croker.

"While Mr. Croker has been scoffed at by some English newspapers for giving such a long price for a 'selling plater,' it should not be overlooked that the colt's party had bid almost the same figure in their desire to retain him, the inference being reasonably fair that those who ought to know best considered him worth to them within a trifling sum of what Mr. Croker paid. Let us hope that Mr. Croker will have the best of luck with his purchase, and that Little Saint will carry the 'Yale blue, gold tassel' to victory in many nice races. Mr. Croker, despite continuous bad luck, has all along proved himself a genuine sportsman, and it is vastly to his credit that he soon gave evidence of his disapproval of the policy of his erstwhile mentor.

"What the Dwyer policy has this year accomplished in overracing and misusing such good horses as Previous, Kingdon and Sly Fox would almost certainly have been Dobbins' fate in 1894 but for the reason, as was generally understood at the time, that Mr. Croker put his foot down and insisted that the colt should be reserved for his stake engagements. Our English cousins have no end of respect for Mr. Croker's sportsmanlike acceptance of the many unkind knocks to which ill fortune has subjected him, and I am sure one can discover, in reading between the lines of the previously quoted extracts, that their authors cherished a secret gratification that Mr. Croker had caught an English owner out of line at the selling race game.

"Selling races are manipulated very differently in England from the stereotyped manner to which we have become accustomed over here. While with us it is comparatively exceptional to have a winner bid up or a beaten horse claimed, these are matters of every day occurrence in England. And it is quite needless to add that the purpose of selling races is thereby much more thoroughly served. Even the largest and most influential establishments take a hand in the game, and horses are almost daily changing hands. In consequence of this competition in the matter the public really gets a great deal of pleasure as well as profit out of these events (the profit arising, of course, from having 'backed the right 'un') while the spectacle of such a horse as Harry Reed winning race after race at odds on and entered to be sold for only a fractional part of his value is positively unknown, not to say impossible.

"It is interesting to note that Americans have been concerned in the two highest priced bid-dings in the history of English selling races. Unless my memory and information serves me wrongly, Little Saint's purchase by Mr. Croker for 1,600 guineas has been approached only by Mr. M. F. Dwyer's retention of old Banquet for 1,510 guineas at Newmarket in the spring of 1895. It will also be remembered that Mr. Dwyer was forced to bid 1,250 guineas to retain Harry Reed a few weeks after the Banquet episode."

MARCUS DALY'S GOOD COLTS.

The all-absorbing topic in turf circles since Saturday afternoon has been the victory of Hamburg in the Brighton Cup. Although the issue was a foregone conclusion genuine horsemen took more interest in the race than if they had thousands involved. They flattered themselves that Hamburg's fast stable companion, Ogden, would use his great speed to bring the Hanover colt along for a mile or so, but Ogden was apparently out for second money and he was rated along under a stiff pull with the sole object of taking care of Howard Mann. The race as it was run proved a rather unsatisfactory test, although it was apparent that Hamburg was running well within himself all the way.

What the winner could have done if urged must remain an open question, but the majority of those who watched his performance critically, seem to agree that if the track had been fast Hamburg would have wiped out the records from the fall of the flag. He was full of running from the start to finish, and effectively put an end to any doubts as to his ability to "go a route." Perhaps a more significant feature of the race was the showing of Ogden, who had previously been regarded as a sprinter, pure and simple. His performance was probably as much appreciated by Marcus Daly as Hamburg's, inasmuch as the son of Kilwarlin proved that he could stay a distance. His sire could stay, as he demonstrated when he won the St. Leger, but his stock showed marked disinclination to run beyond a mile. Now Ogden has demonstrated that no distance is too far for him if the pace suits. In these two colts Marcus Daly has about the best pair of their age in the country, and it is generally hoped that the long string of bad luck which followed the colors of the "Copper King" is now effectively broken.

Whether Hamburg is to go to England or not may be decided this week. The owners and trainer of the four-year-old champion, Ornament, profess to be very anxious for a race with the noted three-year-old. They declined the issue on Saturday on the grounds that the scale of weights favored the younger horse too much. Other owners offer the same explanation for their lack of support of the Brighton Cup, which is established for the development of stamina in the thoroughbred. All seem to overlook the fact that, while the weights may give a nominal advantage to three-year-olds, the distance is distinctly in favor of more mature horses. It is about time that this debatable point was settled, as the Brighton Beach Association aims at establishing races up to four miles if horsemen can be induced to run their candidates. There is no longer room for doubt that patrons of the game like to see genuine tests of stamina, as was evidenced on Saturday when they followed every movement of Hamburg from the paddock to the finish, although not one in a thousand had a bet down.—New York Sun.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

At the Belle Meade sale in October, 220 head of stock will be sold by auction, consisting of 36 yearlings, 70 brood mares, 40 yearlings; the two stallions, Dandie Dimmont and Tremont; saddle horses, ponies and Jersey cattle. After this sale General Jackson will still have left on the farm about 100 brood mares and five stallions. Among the mares catalogued are Tulla Blackburn and Fairy.

The running meeting which was scheduled to take place at Omaha, Neb., from August 18 to September 7 has been declared off, as the management did not consider the patronage of the exposition sufficient to warrant the undertaking.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

Secretary Hopper of Latonia, who is presiding in the judge's stand at the Butte races, writes that the sport out there this year is better than ever. The attendance is larger and the betting brisk. The Paris mutuels are in use at Butte, and will be put on at all the tracks on the Montana circuit. Mr. Ed Tipton, the manager of the circuit, has been ill for several weeks, but has recovered sufficiently to take up his duties again on the track.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Yesterday's St. Louis Republic says: "The racing stewards of the Fair Association held a meeting last night and decided to close the meeting at the end of the regular season."

90 days, as per the breeders' racing bill. This will bring the season to a close with the end of the present month. Only 22 days remains of the meeting to be run, and the indications are that the racing season at the Fair Grounds will close in a blaze of glory."

The Saratoga Racing Association has offered the following special race for Hamburg and Ornament: Saratoga Special; one and a quarter miles; $2,500 added; $500 entrance; weights 5 pounds below the scale; to be run Wednesday, August 10. Dry track or race to be postponed until next good track. Entry to close Wednesday, August 3, at 1 p. m., at racetrack, Saratoga.

A RARE BARGAIN.

Dave Waldo will be sold at auction in the paddock at Harlem Thursday, August 4, at 1:30 p. m. Judge Clark has said that the colt will be permitted to run if he changes hands, and the sale will be made with this understanding. Under control of a competent trainer Dave Waldo will without doubt develop into a first-class racehorse. He is bred to go a distance, his dam, Helianthus, having been a best mare, and Ray S., his half brother, was without doubt the best handicap horse in the west when in his prime. He defeated Yo Tambien, and after this race was sold to the Fleischmanns for $12,000. Dave Waldo is a popular colt, and the racing public will be pleased to see the horse pass into competent hands.

Winner—B. g, 5, by Tremont—Samaphore.
Off at first break to a good start. Won hand ridden; second, third and fourth were driving Sauterne had worked well and ran to his work. He was played for a good thing and proved one. He is a good horse and can always beat this kind. Everett was lucky to get away so well and always had a clear path. Millie M is consistent these days. She was off none too well and ran a good race. Bryan made a strong bid in the stretch, but tired badly at the end. Con Reagan had some speed but not much. Dr. Sharp was off poorly and ran all around his field. He is becoming good and deserves attention from now on. Dousterswivel seemed to sulk through the stretch. Dr. Sharp wore two bar plates.

Winner—B. h, 7, by Leonatus—Falaise.
Off at first break to a good start. Won easily; the next three were driving. Libertine was far the best and extremely lucky. With anyone else on him except little Reiff it is doubtful whether he could have won. He was on the rail and slow to get going, and naturally he should have been pinched out on the first turn. The other boys, being afraid of hurting Reiff, pulled wide and let him through. After that there was nothing to the race. Libertine won running away. The Tory's race was a good one. He was off poorly, interfered with often, and had a generally rough journey. Official seems to be of little present account. Brother Fred was poorly ridden. Cutter was right there all the way and ran a fair race. About 1:42 is his notch. Osmon was well up for three-quarters.
Scratched—F. Garner, 96; Friskal, 94.
Overweights—Valeco, 3 pounds; The Tory, 5; Official, 2; Jay Bird, 3.

Time, 12, 24, 36, 48, 1:01, 1:14.
Winner—Ch. c, 3, by Farandole—Orchid.
Post 33 minutes. Start fair. Won driving hard; second, third and fourth driving also. Babieca was the best but lucky. He was the principal cause of the delay at the post and seemed to be too much for young Reiff to manage. He got the colt off well, though, and squeezed through a tight place on the stretch turn. It was a narrow chance and it looked impossible for the colt to get through. Diggs, none too well ridden, ran a good race. He was running great guns at the finish. Borden also finished strong. He had a lot of bad luck, being bumped and interfered with often. Nivoce, off well on his stride, showed a lot of speed, but went all to pieces when the pinch came. This colt races better from behind. Sybaris and Locust blossom both did well as far as they went. First Call ran his race at the post.
Overweights—Nivoce, 2 pounds.

Winner—Ch. c, by Pirate of Penzance—Lizzie Montrose.
Post 13 minutes. Start fair. Won easily; second whipped out; third and fourth driving. The Kentuckian was the best. He waited in behind the leaders until the stretch was reached and then galloped by them as though they were tied. His race was an impressive one. Guess Me raced herself to pieces at the post. She had a lot of speed, but was killed off by Excursion. The latter is a fast colt and should be considered. He was giving away a lot of weight. Miss Dooley was running fast at the end. Mazie V. off poorly, showed no speed at all. Ponchatula ran away three-quarters of a mile before the race.
Scratched—Bald Ned, 96; Fanstle, 99; Cambrian, 107; Ostra, 106; The Dragoon, 99; April's Lady, 93; Stamina, 99; King Barleycorn, 109.

Winner—Ch. c, by Rossington—Betsy Broeck.
Post 2 minutes. Start good. Won in a long hard drive of two. Third and fourth driving also. Traverser was the best but had to be hard pressed to win. He ran a good race but nowhere near his California notch. Turner persevered with the colt and did not pump him out at the first part of the route. St. Alfonses D is a consistent performer. He was right there all the way and hung on gamely through the stretch. Ferrroll seems to be of little or no present account. Burns rode her hard all of the way. The race was strictly between the last three. Hardly will do better. She looks well but is not ready.
Scratched—Flora Louise, 98.
Overweights—Ferrroll, 2 pounds; Hardly, 3.

Winner—Ch. h, 6, by Fonso—Flyer.
Post 3 minutes. Start good. Won under a stout pull; it was a hard drive for the place. Morte Fonso was far the best to-day and Thorpe rode the old fellow to perfection. He waited in behind the field until the stretch turn and made his run at the right time. Morte Fonso was eased up the last sixteenth. He is in extra good form now. Braw Lad set a terrific pace. He raced Boanerges to pieces the first three quarters. The early pace also stopped him, but he came on again in the stretch. Cherry Leaf ran a cracking good race. He looked like a winner on the turn for home, but weakened in the closing drive. He is good now and can win at once. Boanerges is seemingly a coward. If anything carries him fast the first part of a route he always stops. Elusive ran a bad race. Throw it out.

Winner—Ch. g, 8, by Stratford—Tara.
Post 5 minutes. Start good. Won driving, but with something left. The next three were doing their best. Tartarian ran an excellent race. He was off last and ran all around his field. The track was just soft enough to suit him. Madrilene has a lot of speed. She is faint hearted though and was stopping badly at the end. Our Gertie was well on her stride at the start and opened up a big gap early. She, like Madrilene, was ready to lie down at the finish. The latter wants a paste board track and light weight. Watch Lady Callahan. She is in winning form. Hindoonet was killed off by the early pace. Marzella had bad racing luck, and Melter did not do his best.

Winner—Ch. f. 3, by Rayon d'Or—Red Girl.
Start fair. Won in a gallop. Ruby Lips, off to a lucky break and well nursed, seemed to out-class the field. Field Lark, also fortunate at the start, had but small chance with the jockey and was a good horse. High Priest was lucky and well handled. Charagrace was hurried too much the first part and stopped today, but generally stays well. Squire Abingdon had small chance with the sleepy ride he received. Jefferson had no chance with his jockey. He is good. Merlin got away badly and had a stormy journey.

Start good. Won galloping. Maximo Gomez was a good horse today and is much improved. He was easily best. Banquo was not warmed up and lacked speed the first part, but closed fast and got the place from Debride who was pulled up. Debride was easily second best today but was badly handled. The others are of little account.
